PART I

REASONING/LOGICAL THINKING

Directions: In each question below are given two statements followed by two conclusions numbered I and II. You have to take the given two statements to be true even if they seem to be at variance from commonly known facts. Read the conclusion and then decide which of the given conclusions logically follows from the two given statements, disregarding commonly known facts.

26. Statement: Since the feeling of superiority is built in wherever there is social development, there is a little that can be done to arrest it except at the cost of social development.
Conclusion I: To maintain social development, complex should be allowed to continue.
Conclusion II: Social development and complex run side by side.
- (A) If only conclusion I follows
(B) If only conclusion II follows
(C) Both I and II follows
(D) If neither conclusion I nor II follows
27. Statement: In a police encounter, 5 terrorist and 2 soldiers were killed and one injured seriously.
Conclusion I: The clash was not unexpected.
Conclusion II: The only injured was the terrorist.
- (A) If only conclusion I follows
(B) If only conclusion II follows
(C) Both I and II follows
(D) If neither conclusion I nor II follows
28. Statement: Books are like friends who give rich and lasting rewards.
Conclusion I: Always choose rich friends like books.
Conclusion II: Books give us eternal satisfaction.
- (A) If only conclusion I follows
(B) If only conclusion II follows
(C) Both I and II follows
(D) If neither conclusion I nor II follows

29. Statement: Domestic demand has been increasing faster than the production of indigenous crude oil.
Conclusion I: Deficiency demand will have to be met by import.
Conclusion II: There is no need to cut domestic demand of crude oil.
- (A) If only conclusion I follows
(B) If only conclusion II follows
(C) Both I and II follows
(D) If neither conclusion I nor II follows
30. Statement: The greatest need of India today is not of good researchers but well trained teachers.
Conclusion I: India does not need researchers today.
Conclusion II: Researchers are least attached with the universalization and popularization of quality education.
- (A) If only conclusion I follows
(B) If only conclusion II follows
(C) Both I and II follows
(D) If neither conclusion I nor II follows
31. Legal Principle: Whoever dishonestly misappropriates or converts to his own use any movable property shall be punishable.
- Factual Situation: A and B are joint owners of motor cycle which was kept in the garage owned and possessed by B. A had access to the garage with a spare key. B did not have knowledge that A had a spare key to the garage. One day A took the motorcycle out for a ride without the knowledge of B and met with an accident while returning home. While A escaped unhurt the motor cycle fell into the lake and was completely destroyed. B blames A for the loss and lodged an FIR with the local police station that A has stolen the motor cycle. Decide:
- (A) A is not guilty because he is the joint owner of the motor cycle with B and as such has the right to use the motorcycle at his own discretion
(B) A has committed the offence of theft because he took the motor cycle out of the possession of B without his knowledge and consent
(C) A has not committed theft but the offence of damaging property belonging to B
(D) A cannot be held liable as it was an inevitable accident which was completely unintentional and the loss so suffered would be recouped by the insurance claim

32. Legal Principle: A master will be liable for the wrongful acts of his servants done in the course of employment.

Factual Situation: M was an old widow who opened an account with the ABC Bank whereby she would deposit every month a sum of INR 500/-. N a neighbour who worked as the storekeeper in the Bank would collect the money from M and on payment of a small commission from M deposit the same with the Bank. One day M found out that the entire money for the period of 36 months had been appropriated by N. M filed a suit against the ABC Bank. Decide:

- (A) ABC Bank would be liable because N was their employee and was supposed to be depositing the money on behalf of M
- (B) ABC Bank is not responsible as N was a storekeeper and had no connection with taking and returning of deposits. He was depositing the sum of money in exercise of a private agreement between himself and M. It was thus beyond the scope of his job description with the bank
- (C) The ABC Bank is morally responsible as an old widow has been duped of her life's savings by an employee of the bank
- (D) ABC Bank would be liable because N was being paid a commission by M

33. Legal Principle: After a proposal by the promisor has been made to the promisee and the promisee in return for a consideration accepts the proposal and communicates such acceptance so as to be out of his control of recall, a contract enforceable by law is said to have been executed.

Factual Situation: X accesses the website of a furniture seller. He likes certain book shelf. He then calls up the furniture seller and requests further details. The furniture seller then offers to sell the bookshelf liked by X. X agrees to pay the price of the book shelf. For this purpose the furniture seller requests him to send a letter confirming their telephonic communication pertaining to purchase of bookshelf and promising payment within 7 days after the delivery of the bookshelf. X sends the letter. X does not receive the bookshelf. Furniture seller claims to have not received the letter. X seeks to enforce the agreement. Decide.

- (A) Furniture seller is not liable as acceptance was not communicated
- (B) Furniture seller is liable as acceptance has been posted and is out the power of X to rescind or revoke it
- (C) Furniture seller is not liable as the money has not been received
- (D) None of the above

34. Legal Principle: In India the principle of absolute liability states that if anyone brings any dangerous object on his land which is an extraordinary use of his land and that thing escapes, he shall be absolutely liable.

Factual Situation: A is a cinema owner and wishes to reduce his costs so as to increase his profit margins and also to provide round the clock electricity to his cinema theatre. He thus installs an electricity transformer within the premises. One day there occurs a thunder storm and the lightning hits the transformer resulting in an immediate fire which spreads to the theatre and kills atleast 100 people and grievously injures more than 100 people including children. The families of the victims file a claim for damages. Decide.

- (A) A is liable because he has brought on his land a dangerous object which has resulted in injury to various people.
- (B) A is not liable because the fire was due to an Act of God, and circumstances beyond his control, as he could not have known about the thunder storm and the subsequent fire.
- (C) The families of the victims are not entitled to any claim as this is criminal offence and the State will prosecute and decide on compensation to be given to the families of the victims
- (D) None of the above

35. Legal Principle: Ignorance of Law is no excuse in India. Every person in India should be acquainted with the law of the land.

Factual Position: Mr. A a foreigner visited Northern India during winters and was intrigued by the fact that the people burn small fires near the roadside to keep themselves warm. One evening he came out of the hotel and with the intention of helping some labourers sitting nearby asked some people to cut down a tree into small logs and then asked the labourers to light the fire and keep themselves warm. He also gave INR 150/- to the people who had cut down the tree. The police came and arrested him for having cut a tree in violation of the Environment Protection laws. He pleaded ignorance of the law and that the tree was dry and that few men needed it to keep themselves warm. Decide.

- (A) A is not liable as he a foreigner and could not have known about the law of the land
- (B) A is not liable but the people who cut down the tree and the labourers who enjoyed the fire are liable to be prosecuted
- (C) A is liable as he should have known that cutting down of trees is an offence
- (D) A is not responsible as he himself has not cut the tree down

45. The IMF has pointed out that the fast growing economies of Asia face the risk of falling into 'middle income trap'. It means that average income in these countries, which till now have been growing rapidly, will stop growing beyond a point- a point that is well short of incomes in the developed west. The IMF identifies a number of causes of middle income trap- none of which is surprising, ranging from infrastructure to weak institutions, to less than favourable macroeconomic conditions. But the broad overall cause, says IMF, is a collapse in the growth of productivity.

Which of the following is the most logical, rational and critical inference that can be drawn from the above passage?

- (A) Once a country reaches middle income stage, it runs the risk of falling productivity which leads to stagnant incomes
- (B) Falling into middle income trap is a general characteristic of fast growing economies

- (D) As regards growth of productivity, the performance of Asian economies is not satisfactory

46. Climate change is likely to expose a large number of people to increasing environmental risks forcing them to migrate. The international community is yet to recognize this new category of migrants. There is no consensus on the definition and status of climate refugees owing to the distinct meaning the term refugees carry under the international laws. There are still gaps in the understanding how climate change will work as the root cause of migration. Even if there is recognition of climate refugees, who is going to provide protection? More emphasis has been given to international migration due to climate change. But there is a need to recognize the migration of such people within the countries also so that their problems can be addressed properly.

Which of the following is the most rational inference from the above passage?

- (A) The world will not be able to cope with large scale migration of climate refugees
 - (B) We must find the ways and means to stop further climate change
 - (C) Climate change will be the most important reason for migration of people in future
 - (D) Relations between climate change and migration is not yet understood

Directions: Read the passage and answer the questions that follow.

True, it is the function of the army to maintain law and order in abnormal times. But in normal times there is another force that compels citizens to obey the laws and to act with due regard to the rights of others. The force also protects the lives and the properties of law abiding men. Laws are made to secure the personal safety of its subjects and to prevent murder and crimes of violence. They are made to secure the property of citizens against theft and damage to protect the rights of communities and castes to carry out their customs and ceremonies, so long as they do not conflict with rights of others. Now, the good citizen, of his own free will, will obey these laws and he takes care that everything he does is done with due regards to the rights and well being of others. But the bad citizen is only restrained from breaking these laws by fear of consequence of his actions. And the necessary steps to compel the bad citizen to act as a good citizen are taken by this force. The Supreme control of law and order in a state is in the hands of the Minister who is responsible to the State Assembly and acts through the Inspector General of Police.
