

Q1. Underline the prepositions in the following story.

A clever cap seller was going to a village to sell caps. As he reached near the jungle, he sat down under a tree to take rest. He kept his bag besides his head and soon fell asleep. There were many monkeys on the tree. They were attracted towards the colourful caps in the bag. The monkeys opened his bag and quietly took out the caps. They put on the caps on their heads and went back on the tree. When the cap seller got up, he found his bag empty. He looked around for the cap. When he looked up, he saw the monkeys on the tree were wearing the caps. He took off his cap and threw it on the ground under the tree. The monkeys also threw the caps on the ground. The cap seller collected his caps and went his way into the jungle.
