

ENGLISH PRACTICE WORKSHEET – III
2014 – 15

Class III

1. Read the passage and answer the questions that follow:

In December 2006, a baby polar bear was born in the Berlin zoo. This was the first baby polar bear to be born in thirty years so there was a lot of excitement in the zoo. However there was soon some disappointment because the mama bear refused to look after her baby! So a zoo official called Thomas Dorflein adopted the baby. The baby, who was no bigger than a snowball, was called Knut. Thomas Dorflien gave Knut the love and care that he needed to survive and grow. He slept on a mattress next to Knut's bed, played, bathed and fed the cub daily. A very loving and special bond developed between the man and the animal. Knut became famous all over the world. People, especially children, would wait for hours outside his enclosure just to watch him play and feed.

Q1. Where was the baby polar bear born?

Q2. Why were the people disappointed?
