VIRTUAL LABS:

Virtual Labs will provide the students the result of an experiment by one of the following methods (or possibly a combination). Modelling the physical phenomenon by a set of equations and carrying out simulations to yield the result of the particular experiment. This can, at-the-best, provide an approximate version of the 'real-world' experiment. Providing measured data for virtual lab experiments corresponding to the data previously obtained by measurements on an actual system. Remotely triggering an experiment in an actual lab and providing the student the result of the experiment through the computer interface. This would entail carrying out the actual lab experiment remotely. Virtual Labs will be made more effective and realistic by providing additional inputs to the students like accompanying audio and video streaming of an actual lab experiment and equipment. For the 'touch and feel' part, students can possibly visit an actual laboratory for a short duration.

Karnataka State Open University has been recognised as Nodal Centre for Virtual Labs under the leadership of National Institute of Technology, Surathkal. The University has established well equipped Virtual Labs at Science Bhavan which can cater to the needs of KSOU learners in accessing the experiments developed by NITK.
